

Guru blues

■ Heart for art's sake: Whatever happened to David Art Wales? we hear you ask. Wales, as some may remember, was the artistic Dr Frankenstein of Guru Adrian (pictured above), a Nice Age prophet and dispenser of random wisdom and handy hints who used to grace the pages of the likes of Stiletto Magazine and the now defunct Alan.

Wales now lives in New York, and 3D WORLD magazine has revealed the shocking truth of his fall — from Guru Adrian to Guru Gigolo.

In an interview, he confesses to having advertised "to be a professional companion".

"The ad says: 'Well-mannered, well-dressed, erudite Australian artist wishes to meet generous older woman for friendship, dining, outings and conversation.' I sort of want to be a eunuch gigolo . . . Not exactly a eunuch or a gigolo — just a non-sexual walker. I want to escort rich old women . . . I just want them to buy me food and, perhaps, patronise my work."

We hope they don't have to be too rude about it.